BITS AND PIECES

Today marks the last issue of the newsletter for the season. The next issue will arrive in your mailboxes on October 1 and continue monthly through June 2027.

Some new and exciting things have been put into place at the Haven. We have now officially been dragged into the 21st century.

Effective immediately, Knitters Haven will now accept dues and punch card payments via Zelle in addition to cash and checks. So, if you have a Zelle account you can start using it right away.

Another change is that we now offer a one-time drop-in rate of $10. Any of the payment methods above are accepted.

And the last change is the removal of expiration dates from the punch cards. Moving forward your card will be kept on file and expiration dates have been crossed out. Current cardholders will be included in this change. We all want the Haven to be just that, a welcoming place that has something for everyone.

The Eisenhower Birthing Center continues to accept knitted or crocheted baby blankets and hats. You can bring your items directly to them:

Let your intentions known to the front desk of the main hospital entrance. Take the elevator nearest the desk to the second floor to the Volunteer Office. They will accept your items.

Or you may bring them to the Haven and someone will bring them to Eisenhower for you. Reports have it the new moms love the items which are part of a discharge gift

JUST JAN DESIGNS

When the weather gets warmer we're still knitting!

A Mary Shawl (named for our Mary O who has created many beautiful shawls) is an easy and fun project. Use a simple yarn for a classic look, or a fun yarn for something creative. It's easy to make and looks great!

I'm always happy to ship yarn to you for your next project!

Trendsetter Direct (www.trendsetteryarns.com/retailkits.asp) has kits that can be sent directly to you!

Summer can be the perfect time for:

- Learn a new technique. If you need help or a little boost, schedule a private class to get you on your way!
- Finish those pesky UFO's. Pick one or two from the pile and set aside time to finish before you start new projects for Fall!
- Organize your yarn collection. We all have it, those precious yarns we just had to have, but will never grow into something. You can pass them along to a friend or group or just donate them! You just might discover a fun project you forgot you had! How do you organize your yarns? By color, weight or project?

I'll be taking off at the end of August for another Camino Adventure! You can always follow me along at www.Polarsteps.com/janrunkel
